CERTIFICATE

The right to be listed in the ELE register and to hold the international title of a European Lighting Expert (ELE) is granted to a candidate who has successfully passed the examination held before the examination board of a participating national lighting society within the European Lighting Association (ELEA), and according to the examination regulations of the ELEA.

§ 8 Section 1 of the examination regulations explains the purpose of the examination as follows:

»The examination serves to ascertain if a candidate has achieved the educational objectives of the European Lighting Expert. Passing the exam means the candidate has proven that he is proficient in understanding the principles of light and lighting as well as related practical aspects as stipulated in the educational objectives in order to apply such knowledge as a self-employed person.«

Every European Lighting Expert also agrees to comply with the Code of Conduct for European Lighting Experts. Registration is effective as of the date of signature and is valid for five years.

The ELE register is managed by the Swiss Light Association (SLG) on behalf of the ELEA.
